Overview

We are delighted to introduce this research student conference, the first jointly organised by the School of Education, Communication and Language Sciences (ECLS), Newcastle University and Faculty of Education, The University of Hong Kong. The conference is open to all research students working in three related fields: Applied Linguistics, Education, and Speech and Language Sciences. It gives you an opportunity to present your work online to a diverse audience in a safe environment. You may present something you have recently presented at the RPG/PGR in-person conference in your institute, or present something new. On each of the two days, there will be 5 presentations in each parallel strand, giving a maximum of 30 places over 2 days.
